

Letters for Life

3 things to remember

1. After Jesus's resurrection, He taught His followers more about who He is and God's plan for the world

These letters give us more details on God's beautiful plan. The people of Israel knew that they were God's people, but Jesus revealed that God's plan was always to include people from every nation. He explains how the events of the Old Testament were part of God's plan, now revealed in the New Testament.

2. New Testament teachings on life

These letters show us how to live life now that we have the gift of Jesus. They remind us to obey Jesus, but at the same time not to try and do it on our own. God is the one who gives us the power to live in love and obedience to Him. Trying to follow the rules in our own strength will never work. At the same time, disobeying what God commands us to do reveals our true heart. Just like in the days of Old Testament Law, if we love God, we will want to obey Him.

3. Jesus is coming back

When His apostles saw Jesus ascend into the sky after His resurrection; they were told that He would return the same way. These letters encourage people to live in light of Jesus's second coming.
